Chairman's Message

Welcome to the Ericsson Cup, Soccer Australia's new look national competition. The 1995/96 Ericsson Cup has got off to a tremendous start and already we are seeing exciting football played before increasing crowd numbers. Soccer Australia sees the Ericsson Cup as a showcase of the best of Australian soccer for Australian sports fans.

The 1995/96 Ericsson Cup has brought with it a number of changes that Soccer Australia believe were needed to kick start Australia's premier soccer competition. Firstly, the name and the format have changed. The Ericsson Cup is now a 12 team competition played in three rounds followed by a finals series. We also welcome teams from Newcastle and Canberra into the Ericsson Cup thereby taking soccer at its highest club level to two of Australia's largest non State Capital cities. Additionally, we are pleased to welcome a new naming rights sponsor – Ericsson Australia, who will be our partner for the next five years.

Soccer Australia's commitment to increase the level of media exposure of the Ericsson Cup is paramount. As a result we are happy to have Optus Vision as soccer's Pay Television network who, along with S.B.S. Television will now bring soccer into more homes than ever before with far greater selection of matches for viewers to see.

We are also pleased to welcome back Optus Communications together with our new airline sponsor Ansett Australia. Additionally, we are grateful for the ongoing sponsorship from Coca-Cola Amatil, Mitre Sports and United Distillers.

Most importantly we thank you, the supporters, for your contribution to the game and the players that will make this seasons Ericsson Cup one of Australian sports best domestic competitions.

CHAIRMAN

That was the s

When Australian soccer fans look back on the season that was for the Ericsson

Without a shadow of a doubt Mark Viduka and the Melbourne Knights all but made the season their own, rightfully walking away with an array of accolades and awards.

Viduka, or the Big V as Victorians like to proclaim him, was easily the dominant figure of the season, scooping the pool at the Awards Night and carrying all before him on the field.

And the Knights, in their greatest season ever, clinched the championship-minor premiership-Johnnie Walker Cup treble to make up for those seasons of heartbreak when Lady Luck deserted him.

After three losses in four seasons in the grand final, the Knights finally became winners when they beat defending champions Adelaide City 2-0 in the grand final at Hindmarsh Stadium before a sellout crowd of 16,000.

Mind you, Melbourne did it the hard way, having lost to Adelaide in the two-legged major semi-final before having to beat South Melbourne 3-2 in a gripping and thrilling preliminary final in the wet.

Surprisingly, Viduka did not play as influential a role as expected in the end-of-season finale, but, really, he had done his job during the season... and how!

For the second season in succession Viduka was crowned the Ericsson Cup leading goalscorer, having slammed home 18 goals – one ahead of nearest rival Damian Mori.

He completed a double-double when, for the second season in succession, he won the Warren Medal for being named the Players player-of-the-year and the Papasavas Medal for the under 21 player-of-the-year.

Other wards included Adelaide City's Zoran Matic being named coach-of-the-year; Zeljko Kalac (Sydney United) goalkeeper-of-the-year and Eddie Lennie referee-of-the-year.

Of course, an Ericsson Cup season would not be an Ericsson Cup season without a coach or two or three being sacked at some stage.

(Parramatta Eagles) replaced by Washington Gonzales.

Vince Estavillio (UTS Olympic) replaced by Geoff Harcombe, who resigned before the last game of the season and was replaced by Gary Meier.

Bobby McLachlan (Morwell Falcons) replaced by Harry Bingham.

And, there will be three new coaches at the helm of various clubs for the start of the new season:

Berti Mariani replaces David Ratcliffe at Wollongong City with Ratcliffe taking over at UTS Olympic and Manfred Schaefer replaces Andrea Icardi at Marconi Fairfield.

How many coaches will bite the dust this season?

Thankfully, off-field dramas involving fans were kept to a minimum – though as usual there were some flare-ups – and that left the non-soccer media with very little ammunition to fire at Australian soccer.

Clubs, however, face a new challenge with the Players Union fighting in court for a wages deal and the abolition of the local transfer fees.

Of course we continue to lose our top, young players overseas. Viduka, Steve Horvat, Steve Corica, Stan Lazaridis, Tony Vidmar and Zeljko Kalac, to name a few, have headed for the bright lights of Europe.

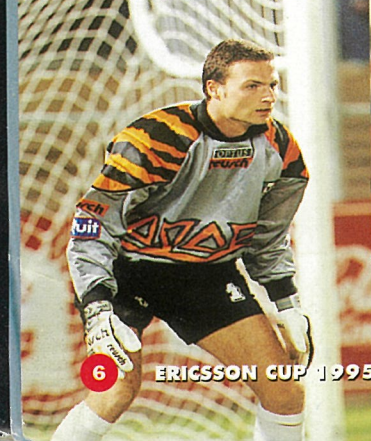

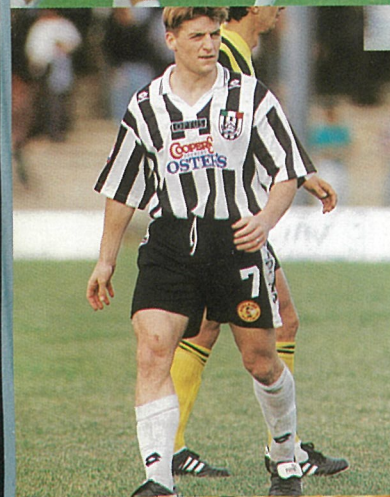

The drain is getting too much to bear and our administrators should be addressing the problem instead of trying to prove how powerful and influential they are in the game.

Much was said of the controversial new rule involving the penalty shoot-out and the four points for a win system. Opinion was fairly divided on the issue.

For the record, those who felt the wrong end of the sword were:

Coach Mike Urakalo (Heidelberg Utd.) replaced by Andy Bozakas.

Cup they need not look any further than the Knights and the Big V.

though most coaches were against the penalty shoot-out, which was used to decide drawn games.

It has to be said that it really did not affect the game because, in the end, the best teams still came out on top.

Listed below is how your team fared last season:

Melbourne Knights (minor premiers, champions): Success at last for the Knights and few would begrudge them their first championship. A class club with a classy coach, quality players and a solid administration. Destined to stay on or near the top for some time to come.

Adelaide City (second, beaten grand finalist): As we have come to expect they were up there all the way. Fell one match short of claiming a hat-trick of titles. What can you say about one of the best on and off the field soccer clubs in the country?

Sydney United (third): New coach Branko Culina had a lot to live up to after Manfred Schaefer took the Crows to third spot the previous season. Culina and his players handled the pressure superbly and were unlucky to bow out in the minor semi-final. Have a lot of great talent coming through. Team of the future.

Morwell Falcons (fourth): what a great effort to reach the finals in only their third season. Had some quality players in John Markovski, Ernie Tapai and Warren Spink. Lost coach Bobbie McLachlan for the latter part of the season but his replacement Harry Bingham did a wonderful job.

West Adelaide (fifth): Figured in the finals for the second season in succession. Coach Raul Blanco has built a solid unit, though they are probably just a couple of class players short of being an outstanding team.

South Melbourne (sixth): After a poor start to the season, they struggled to get into the finals, but once there they finally overcame their playoff blues. Knocked out in the preliminary final by eventual champions Melbourne Knights but they went down fighting.

Brisbane Strikers (seventh): Had a good start to the season and were always in or just outside the top six. Another team just lacking a couple of real quality players, though that will be fixed up in part by the signing of Frank Farina for this season.

Wollongong City (eighth): Coach David Ratcliffe did about as much as he could with limited reserves of cash. A real up and down season for the Wolves.

Sydney Olympic (ninth): Failed to deliver yet again. Typically, they had their share of coaching and financial problems during a grossly disappointing season. New coach David Ratcliffe has a tough job on his hands here.

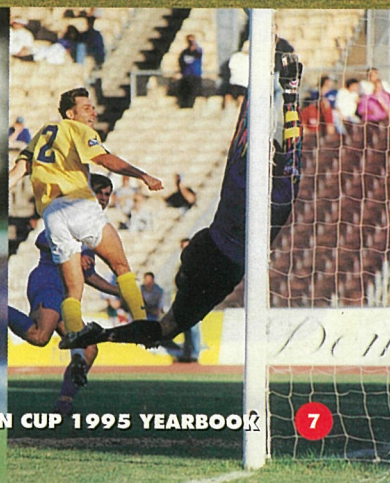

Marconi Fairfield (10th): A bitterly disappointing season in which the team rarely, if ever, rose above mediocrity. So much is always expected from this club. Still, some good should come out of it with the club starting to head in a new direction with a clean-out of players and a new coach in Manfred Schaefer.

Melbourne SC (11th): Lack of finances and injury problems were always going to mean the Zebras would struggle, Coach Ken Murphy did well with limited resources.

Parramatta Eagles (12th): A season to forget for the Eagles. Paid the price for ordinary goalscoring record. Rarely fired at any stage, though severe injuries to Gabriel Mendez and Brendan Renuad did not help.

Heidelberg United (last): Another poor season for the 'Bergers. Nothing seemed to go right and they were near the bottom for just about the entire season. •

When the Knights Were Triumphant

By Ray Gatt

"Ding Dong the witch is dead!"

So said that great rugby league coach of the 1970s and 1980s Jack Gibson to an auditorium full of fans after leading Parramatta to their first premiership in 1981.

It was the only line – and what a beauty it was – he muttered when asked to make a speech at the club as the celebrations raged around him.

The dark cloud that hung over Parramatta's inability to win the title had finally been lifted and now, some 14 years on, those six words used by Gibson were reverberating around the dressing room walls at Adelaide's Hindmarsh Stadium.

The doom and gloom and utter despair of the previous four seasons were washed away in a tidal wave of emotion as the Melbourne Knights at last got to have their day in the sun.

No more playing the bridesmaid... this time they got to walk down the aisle in their own right after claiming the National Soccer League championship for the first time in their history.

In beating defending champions Adelaide City 2-0 before a packed stadium of 16,000 and in front of the Zebra's home fans, the Knights proved themselves worthy champions of Australia.

And, it wasn't before time!

Apart from Parramatta and AFL club Collingwood's finals woes, there have been few better documented end-of-season disasters than those associated with the Knights.

Up until this grand final victory they had had to live painfully with the fact that, in the eyes of a few, they were "losers" and "chokers". A club which, despite its array of talent and pre-finals success, could not stand the heat of battle when it counted most.

Three times in the previous four seasons they had finished minor premiers and three times they were the vanquished – battered and beaten – in the ultimate game of the season.

Melbourne were beaten twice on penalties – 1990-91 season by South Melbourne and 1991-92 season by Adelaide City – before a wonder goal from Adelaide's Damien Mori sank them without trace in the 1993-94 grand final.

But, it was well and truly pay back time last season as the Knights exorcised the demons of their past.

And, seriously, when Andrew "Stabber" Marth hoisted the National Soccer League trophy over his head, I don't think any air-minded soccer fan would have begrudged them their moment of glory.

Little wonder the players partied long and hard back in Melbourne before the club faithful, the people who stuck by them in their darkest moments.

And the players deserved all the accolades, especially the warrior and Captain Courageous, Andrew Marth, Mark Silic, who was named winner of the Marston Medal for best-on-ground and cultured sweeper Steve Horvat.

Marth was a pillar of strength in a grand final that could have gone the other way had City converted a couple of early chances.

But, the big defender, possibly on the comeback trail with the Socceroos, kept the team together and then provided one of those magical moments that surely helped to inspire his team-mates to greater heights.

He turned the game around in the 36th minute when he latched on to a fierce drive from 25 metres and on an acute angle and left City 'keeper Jason Petkovic stranded as the ball flew into the top left hand corner of the net.

Marth later claimed it was a "fluke" and that he would be flat out doing it again if given another 100 attempts. Thankfully the record books do not take flukes into contention and the goal will go down along with Mori's effort the previous season, as a goal of a lifetime.

When bullocking Joe Spiteri added a second goal just six minutes later, the game was as good as over.

Die-hard City fans clung to the hope that their beloved black and whites would come out for the second half all fired up and determined to grab a third successive title that had all but slipped away from them.

It was not to be. The fightback failed to eventuate and it was Melbourne who could have added to their tally a number of times late in the game as Adelaide started to feel the heavy burden of defeat.

When the final blow of referee Eddie Lennie's whistle came, it signalled wild scenes as the Knights and their fans went through celebration jigs on the field and in the stands.

Some players risked life and limb and climbed high wire fences to salute the fans, other hugged each other in the centre of the field, while some stood around with their faces buried in their hands hardly daring to believe they had done it at last.

For Knights' coach Mirko Bazic, it was the end of a frustrating run of two seasons.

The man with the "sad sack" expression had built a quality team which could tear apart most teams, but one that would fall at the last hurdle.

Now, against the odds and with his health a constant problem, Bazic had achieved what no other could do at the club. We even saw him break into a broad smile as Marth lifted the trophy...but you had to be quick to see it.

And what of the vanquished? City were beaten but now bowed.

In the end, the heavy burden of expectation – delivering a title for the first time in front of their home crowd – was beyond them three times a grand final winner away from home, City will now have to wait another season to reward their faithful fans.

But there will be no next time for genius coach, Zoran Matic, who bowed out from coaching – for the time being at least – after 10 wonderfully successful seasons at the club.

During his amazing tenure, Matic took the club to the heights... to such an extent that they are now – and with good reason – acknowledged as the true glamour club of the Ericsson Cup.

This soccer writer at least will miss Zoran's forthright comments, his dry sense of humour and superb insights into the game.

But, I have a feeling Zoran won't be lost to the game for too long. As they say in the classics, "You can't keep a good man down." •

Sydney United won the National Youth League Championship trophy for the second time in four years when it beat Melbourne Knights by a goal to nil in the delayed Divisional play-off at Edensor Park. Striker Mario Jerman was the hero, scoring his third crucial goal in four games to see his team through. Jerman also scored the only goal of the Northern Division Grand Final which deprived the Australian Institute of Sport of the championship they had been leading all season. He also appeared as a late substitute for Manis Lamond in the United senior team to score the equalising goal against West Adelaide in the Elimination Semi-final at the Hindmarsh Stadium.

In the Northern Division the AIS was minor premier and beat Sydney United 2-1 in the major semi-final with goals by George Vallas and star defender Hayden Foxe. Sydney United's goal was by Sean Babic. Parramatta Eagles eliminated the Queensland Academy of Sport by three goals to two in a close fought match, but went down in the Preliminary Final to United by the same score thanks to two extraordinary goals by Sean Babic in the last minute of play.

South Melbourne reached the Preliminary Final in the Southern Division with a five-nil demolition of Morwell Falcons in the Elimination Semi-Final replay at Anderson Reserve. The match was a complete contrast to the first game played at Morwell as South established a two-goal lead early and the Falcons failed to take their chances of getting back into the game. South Melbourne and Heidelberg drew one-all in the Preliminary Final. In the replay, Heidelberg got a flying start with a goal by George Peppas after 30 seconds. The match was finally settled in 75 minutes when Heidelberg came down the right and a deep cross found Peppas unmarked at the far post to head a second goal. Heidelberg then faced the Melbourne Knights on Wednesday in the Southern Division Grand Final. It was a dour struggle in the persistent drizzle, with the teams deadlocked in a scoreless draw at the end of normal and sudden death extra-time. All the excitement came in the last few minutes of extra time and the penalty shoot-out which the Knights eventually won by five goals to four.

In the South Australian Division, Para Hills Knights was the surprise packet coming from third place to defeat Adelaide City three-nil in the Preliminary Final and West Adelaide by four goals to two in an exceptional Grand Final. Michael Odontiadis of Woodville City was named player of the series and John Fortanarosa of Croydon was top scorer with fifteen goals.

Melbourne Knights came from behind to beat Para Hills Knights by four goals to one in the Divisional Play-Off between the winners of the Southern and South Australian Divisions of the NYL. After being postponed to save the pitch in Melbourne, this game was eventually played as the curtain raiser to the NSL Grand Final in a great atmosphere at the Hindmarsh Stadium. Para Hills began brightly, scoring through Anthony Di Gioia. Melbourne Knights gained an equaliser when Krunoslav Razov's driven cross was handled in the box and Damien Vojtek buried the penalty kick. Razov put Melbourne Knights ahead from a cross by Branko Bacak. Razov then fed Bacak, who struck the ball first time with enough force to beat Para keeper Jamie Getgood as he tried to readjust his position. The Knights from Melbourne were now in full control and Razov and Branko Bacak combined once again in the 80th minute, as Bacak cleverly lifted the ball over Getgood for the fourth goal.

Josip Skoko of North Geelong was voted player of the year from Damian Vojtek of Melbourne Knights and Con Harbis of South Melbourne in the Southern Division and in the Northern Division, Hayden Foxe of the AIS took the award from colleague John Simunic and Mark Rudan of Sydney United. Daniel Allsopp of the Victorian Institute of Sport top scored in the Southern Division with 22 goals. •

CLIPSE 18 Panel Match and Training Ball

Quality: Top quality performance match and training ball for all levels of soccer.

Performance: Made from Japanese synthetic leather and with Mitre's hand laminated and balanced backing system, the Eclipse delivers lively yet controllable performance both on the ground and in flight.

Suitability: Ideal as a match and training ball for all levels of soccer and particularly popular as a match ball for youth and school soccer.

PRO MAX 26 Panel Match Ball

Quality: Professional quality competition match ball. Official match ball of the English FA Premier League Soccer Australia and Ericsson A-League.

Performance: Tough high grip urethane surface with Mitre's most advanced backing systems and bladder technology give the Pro Max a true flight with lively performance and allows expression of players' skills at the highest level of the game.

Suitability: Excellent on all match quality surfaces and can even be used on asphalt. High grip surface is particularly valued in wet weather and allows a high degree of control.

COSMIC 18 Panel Match and Training Ball

Quality: An ideal introduction to true soccer ball performance for younger levels of soccer.

Performance: Cosmic offers strength and lively performance often found in more expensive balls. Hand laminated, four layer polyester lining with natural latex seamless bladder.

Suitability: Soft, supple polyurethane surface makes the Cosmic an especially popular match and training ball with younger players and can be used on most playing surfaces. It is not recommended for high abrasion surfaces.

COPA 26 Panel Match Ball

Quality: Competition quality match ball for use at all levels of the game.

Performance: With durable PU surface backed by Mitre's best quality backing cloths, hand laminated and balanced, the Copa makes quality performance available to all levels of soccer.

Suitability: Excellent on all match quality surfaces and can be used on Astro Turf and indoor surfaces.

MUNDIAL 18 Panel Match and Training Ball

Quality: Club match and training ball designed for durability, performance and economy.

Performance: Manufactured with multi layer polyester and canvas backing system with shiny and wearing vulcanised surface, the Mundial is particularly resistant to water absorption. High grip surface and low bounce character encourages ball control and passing accuracy in all weather conditions.

Suitability: Recommended for use on almost all surfaces particularly harder grounds, Astro turf and more abrasive surfaces. The Mundial is suitable for all age levels of soccer.

MONDE 18 Panel Match Ball

Quality: Competition quality match ball with light feel and lively character.

Performance: Soft polyurethane coated surface backed by Mitre's exclusive polyester backing cloths, hand laminated and balanced for strength and shape retention with seamless bladder. The Monde's performance can develop and enhance playing skills in both matches and training.

Suitability: Excellent match ball for all levels and especially popular for youth matches and women's soccer.

ULTIMA PREMIER LEAGUE 18 Panel Training Ball and Junior Match Ball

Quality: Replica quality ball manufactured to official size and weight standards.

Performance: Scuff resistance PVC and backed with multi layer polyester and cotton layers. The Premier League has a mid range bounce performance and its soft feel patent PVC surface is excellent for the development of individual skills and as a practice ball.

Suitability: Recommended for use on grass and many indoor surfaces. Ideal junior match ball and practice ball for development of skills.

Mark Sargent. Captain Newcastle Knights.

Paul Wade. Australian Soccer Captain.

Gavin Wanganeen. Brownlow Medalist.

They fly Ansett Australia. (They shower first.)

Fly with us and you're quite likely to be flying with one of the many heroes of Australian sport, because Ansett Australia is Australian sport. We sponsor the AFL, Australian Soccer Federation, Australian Cricket Board and Rugby League (as well as the Australian Sports Commission).

We fly all these teams to all their matches and then back again - but only after they've cleaned themselves up, of course.

ANSETT AUSTRALIA

One of the world's great airlines.

WHICH
MOBILE PHONE
YOU BUY.
IT'S WHICH ERICSSON.

No matter what you're looking for in a mobile phone, there's sure to be an Ericsson to suit. From digital to analogue, less expensive to fully featured. We even have a range of new flip phones, plus an entire range of handy accessories, including the unique hands-free unit. So now it's not which mobile phone you buy. It's which Ericsson phone.
